

RADIO SUMMER

The background features a vibrant red and yellow sunburst pattern. In the foreground, a white silhouette of a city skyline is visible. Several black radio towers of varying heights are scattered across the skyline. Some towers have silhouettes of people climbing them. Each tower is topped with a circular antenna and radiating lines, suggesting signal transmission.

WHAT COULD YOU DO WITH YOUR OWN RADIO STATION?

WHAT COULD WE DO WITH THOUSANDS OF THEM?

RADIO SUMMER

HIT THE ROAD, SPREAD THE WORD, SEIZE THE AIRWAVES!

Last year Prometheus Radio Project and our allies won a ten-year campaign to expand community radio stations across the country, including for the first time in big cities. Thousands of new licenses for community radio stations will soon be up for grabs!

Host an event in your community, distribute info, or go on tour to tell social justice groups about this historic opportunity. We will work with interested groups to apply for a station and get them on the air.

Prometheus and our allies offer you training, materials, and additional support to get the word out. Together, we can change the media landscape forever.
